
Values in parentheses show the change in percentage points relative to Baseline within the same difficulty category.